

THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN MALE AND FEMALE!

EDITED AND ILLUSTRATED BY JACOB CARTOON

What a man wants from a woman:

Men are funny!...

What is it they want and need the most and what satisfies them?

—Sexual love!

His desire for a woman sexually is almost his strongest drive. They've got to have a woman and they have got to make love to her. Sex is a basic essential need of the male personality...

...and the strongest of all his needs aside from his spiritual needs.

By comparison, most women's sex drive is not all that strong. Normally, most women give a man sex primarily because he needs it and he initiates it and she wants to satisfy him and make him happy. But a woman needs love expressed in a greater variety of ways than mere sex or the bed.

The greatest need of a woman is for a man's love expressed in his security, provision and protection. A woman needs love expressed in these ways most of all. She needs to know that a man loves her enough to take care of her, protect her and provide for her.

She will love the man who gives her these things more than he who gives her only sex.

I'm sorry, John, but Henry takes good care of me and gives me everything I need.

So I guess this is goodbye!

Therefore many a woman has been known to forsake a good lover who didn't or who couldn't take care of her for a man who could give her little or no sex, but who could tenderly gently care for her day after day and with whom she could sleep and feel secure night after night.

That's the man she dumped me for?!

So men have to offer a woman a lot more than sex to make her happy. They not only want your love, but they want your heart, your home, your income, your children and your life, even more than your love-making. So the task of the Flirty Fish can be much easier and make more men happy than of a Fisherman who has to try to provide a home, provision and protection for all his female fish. The male fish is satisfied with the bait, even if he's hooked. But the female fish wants the bait, hook, line, sinker, pole, boat and fisherman!

So promise her everything and give her whatever she needs and she'll remain one of your loyal faithful devotees forever.

And it may interest you to know that although we have more males than females in the Family, we've found the females stick around longer, believe it or not!

So go after those girls, guys. They're great! They make terrific wives, and we got everything in our Family to give them including forgiveness of sins, faith in God, love in Christ, something to really live and work for, peace of mind, health of body and joy and happiness and love and laughter foreverafter! You just need to teach 'em to share.

-Amen?
